Our main goal is to empower municipal employees with crucial green skills for sustainable development through a comprehensive training program and an engaging board game, so they can confidently face local sustainable and green challenges, and become more green-sensitive.

Furthermore, we are committed to sharing these skills with other municipalities and state institutions through an online course, and working towards national and international certification for these qualifications.

Our ongoing efforts are already making a positive impact, paving the way for a greener, more sustainable future and fostering a culture of continuous learning and adaptability.

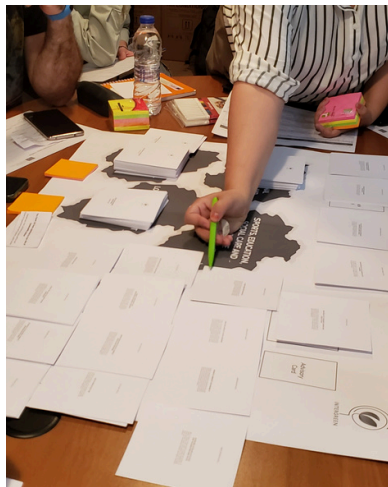

TPM IN THESSALONIKI

The INTERGREEN partnership recently held a successful meeting in Thessaloniki, Greece, bringing all the project members together in person for the first time (April 16th-17th).

This key meeting was a chance for partners to discuss the project's progress and future strategies. The project's overall management and dissemination plan were discussed to ensure consensus on the way forward.

A highlight of the second day was a collaborative playtest of the board game the team has been developing. The partners explored the game's mechanics, uses, and visual design, sharing feedback on how to improve it further. EcoLogic, the North Macedonian partner, gathered player reviews through surveys to guide the game's future development.

This productive meeting is a major step forward, setting the stage for a promising future for the project.
